RETURN OF LONGWORTHS

Expected to Reach Washington in Time to Dine on Thanksgiving.

The White House will again be dull and deserted for the next two weeks, with the President and Mrs. Roosevelt traveling southward on the battleship Louisiana. They leave their two younger sons in charge of their nurses and attendants in the White House, and Miss Ethel in school at the National Cathedral School for Girls. Society will continue to be entirely informal until after their return about the 25th of the month.

It is expected, however, that Representative and Mrs. Longworth, nee Alice Roosevelt, will return to Washington and be established in their winter home before the return of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and that they will all dine together in the White House on Thanksgiving.

George Anderson Walker and Miss Maudie Geneva Cameron will be united in marriage this evening at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride, 1230 Euclid street. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father Cahari, and the wedding reception will be given by the bride's relatives and friends. After the ceremony a wedding reception will be given to the friends of the bride. Mr. Walker is a resident of the South, but the bride-elect is a Washington girl. Miss Cameron is a prominent worker in the Eastern Presbyterian Church. The class of young women taught by Miss Cameron in the Eastern Presbyterian Sunday school will attend the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will leave after the ceremony for a brief bridal tour, and will make their future home in the South.

Two engagements were announced yesterday in New York, which are of special interest to Washington society. The first was that of Miss Pauline Morton, daughter of former Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Paul Morton, and granddaughter of the late Secretary of Agriculture under President Cleveland, Sterling I. Morton, to Mr. Hopkins Smith, a son of the late Washington society feels a special claim upon this Cabinet bud of 1904. She was presented to the Washington society a few months after her graduation from a fashionable school in Chicago, and her father's acceptance of a position in President Roosevelt's Cabinet. The presentation took place on December 14 at an afternoon reception in the handsome home of the late Senator Quay, on K street, which the Morton family occupied during Mr. Morton's short term of service. The affair was one of the most brilliant of that season, brass buttons and gold lace on the uniforms of the officers of both army and navy, but principally the latter making a scene well worth remembering.

Miss Morton was the recipient of more attention than one season, than frequently falls to the lot of important women in a whole lifetime. Mr. Hopkins is a graduate of Harvard University, 1902, and a young man identified with the smart set in New York society, where the Morton family has since Mr. Morton's change from the Cabinet to the presidency of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. Mr. Morton, who probably is a brilliant event of the coming season in the metropolis, The Morton family is supposed to be the late Secretary of the Navy, but principally the latter making a scene well worth remembering.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Fitch and family have moved from Connecticut avenue to 134 E street.

Mrs. Thompson and Miss Ray Thompson, wife and daughter of Captain Thompson, U. S. N., stationed at Annapolis, Md., have moved to the parents, Gen. and Mrs. John Moore, at their sixteenth street home, for the week.

Miss Minnie E. Forbes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Forbes of Falls Church, Va., will be married this evening in the home of her parents, to John W. Seay, Jr. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Cahari, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Falls Church, at 8 o'clock.

The house was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and white flowers, an effective grouping being arranged as a background for the scene of the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in a brown traveling suit with hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Miss Annie E. Seay, sister of the bridegroom, who attended the bride as maid of honor, wore a gray silk and carried American Beauty roses. The bridegroom had as his best man, Guilford White, of Washington, who carried a bouquet of white roses. The bride entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, Miss Emma Seaman presiding at the piano.

A wedding supper was served at the conclusion of the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Seay left, amid showers of rice and confetti, for their home, where the bride and groom will be at home to their friends after November 15, at Falls Church, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry P. Young, of Langdon, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Bertha B. Parker, to John E. Green, on Wednesday evening, November 7. The Rev. C. C. Jones, of the Third-Fourth Street Christian Church, officiating.

The bride was attired in a lace dress over a foundation of white silk, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her niece, Miss Marion Young. The house was decorated with autumn leaves and white flowers, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Cahari, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Falls Church, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Mary Dudley Waters has returned to her home in Washington for the winter. She has made a round of visits to the homes of her friends in the Washington society, and will make her future home in the South.

The church was tastefully decorated in palms and chrysanthemums, and Miss Eleanor Gillan played the wedding music. The Rev. Father Smyth read the marriage service, assisted by the Rev. Father Cahari and the Rev. Father Mackin.

The bride, who entered the church with her father, wore a princess robe of lace over silk and chiffon, with a large white hat.

St. Stephen's Catholic Church on Pennsylvania avenue was the scene yesterday afternoon of the wedding of Miss Bertha B. Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McIntyre, and Lawrence Brewer Battley.

long tulle veil, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her sister's only attendant, a gown of pale blue silk and lace with a blue cloche hat, and carried Bridesmaid roses.

A. J. Damrell was the best man for Mr. Battley, and the ushers were R. E. McIntyre, brother of the bride, C. W. Caldwell, and William Byerly. After the ceremony at the church a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. McIntyre, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of blue silk and Irish point lace, and the bride's two sisters, Miss Edith McIntyre, in white mull and lace, and Miss Annie McIntyre, in blue mull and lace, assisted their mother in receiving. Mr. and Mrs. Battley left later for their bridal trip, and upon their return will make their home at 1227 T street northwest, after November 15. Mrs. Battley's traveling gown was of blue voile, and she wore a blue hat.

Miss Sarah Elizabeth Huguley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Huguley, and Howard L. Austin, of Chicago, will be married Wednesday, November 14, in the home of the bride's parents, 1515 E street. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father Cahari, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Falls Church, at 8 o'clock.

Miss Lila E. Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wells, and Swift Godwin, son of the late Judge Edwin T. Godwin, were married yesterday afternoon in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Father Cahari, pastor of the church.

Autumn foliage and white chrysanthemums formed the decorations in the church. The bride entered with the bridegroom and was unattended. Her gown was of dark blue voile over silk, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridegroom wore a white suit and a white veil which was worn both by her grandmother and mother when they were married.

Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Battley were entertained at a dinner at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. McIntyre, mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of blue silk and Irish point lace, and the bride's two sisters, Miss Edith McIntyre, in white mull and lace, and Miss Annie McIntyre, in blue mull and lace, assisted their mother in receiving.

WEDDING CEREMONY
AT AUNT'S BEDSIDE

Niece of Mrs. Frank L. Stockton Becomes Wife of Harold Godwin.

The wedding of Miss Mary Booker, niece of Mrs. Frank L. Stockton, widow of the famous novelist, and Harold Godwin took place yesterday under peculiar and circumstances. The ceremony was performed at noon at the residence of the bride's parents, 1515 E street, by the Rev. Father Cahari, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Falls Church, at 8 o'clock.

Arrangements for the wedding were decided upon at a late hour Tuesday night in view of Mrs. Stockton's illness. The bride's mother, Mrs. Godwin, who was the only other witness, and her present critical condition from a severe stroke of paralysis with which she was attacked last Sunday evening. The original date set for the marriage was early in the coming April, and had Mrs. Stockton's health been spared, the ceremony would have been performed in Christ Church.

Miss Booker, now Mrs. Godwin, has more her home with Mrs. Stockton ever since the death of the novelist. The original plans that the young couple should occupy an adjoining apartment to that of the bride's aunt will be adhered to.

DURAND'S LEAVING
DEEPLY REGRETTED

English Ambassador and Family Anxious for a Long Rest.

The announcement that the British ambassador has requested an extended leave from his government in order that he may enjoy a much needed rest from diplomatic duties is received with widespread regret among residents who have enjoyed the charming hospitality of the Durand family. The fact is that Ambassador Durand has spent a great part of his life in foreign courts that neither he nor his family has had an opportunity to enjoy their English home and they all feel anxious to settle down quietly for a while upon their ancestral estates, and it is possible that they will not return here.

It is understood that should the ambassador's request be granted the newly appointed secretary, Esme Howard, who will succeed Mr. Townley, will act as chargé d'affaires pro tem. As matters now stand the embassy is enjoying its usual autumn quiet, awaiting the opening of the annual official season.

Lady Durand and her daughter take much pleasure in daily drives in and around the city, living as much as possible in the open air in continuance of their happy life in the Berkshires.

A reorganization of the Leap Year Cotillon, under the auspices of the younger set, is already under way, and December 26 has been selected for the initial dance of the season.

This club, composed of prominent society maids, was organized last year with a large membership, and while many of those most active in its inception have been removed from town through marriage or change of abode, there are those who have determined not to let the club die.

One of the most active among the organizers, Miss Grace Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Bell, recently sailed for an extended tour through India, and her departure has greatly crippled the work of reorganization.

Mrs. W. H. Shier-Cliff entertained at a luncheon yesterday, in honor of Miss Edith Whitaker. The other guests were chiefly from among the leading musicians of the city.

Representative John Dalgell and Mrs. Dalgell returned to Washington today from their home in Pittsburgh, where they have spent the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Courts have issued invitations for the wedding reception of their daughter, Lenora, and Alfred Robinson Glancy, Wednesday evening, November 14, at their residence, on Kalorama avenue.

JOHN H. KIMBALL BURIED IN OAK HILL CEMETERY

John H. Kimball, ninety-six years old, who died Tuesday at the home of his son, Dr. E. S. Kimball, in the Portner, was buried in Oak Hill Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Kimball came to Washington from Maine more than two score years ago, and was employed in the capacity of a clerk in several Federal departments. He enjoyed exceptionally good health throughout life.

Besides Dr. Kimball, he is survived by a daughter and two grandchildren.

A Sale of 500 Trimmed Hats

Beautiful Brand-New Styles,
Intended to Retail up to $8 & $10 $3.50

Not old styles and undesirable shapes—not soiled and picked over Hats—but five hundred of the very newest and most charming creations that can be bought anywhere at the regular valuations we place upon them. They were closed out this week from a noted New York manufacturing milliner—whose styles set the fashion in smart Headwear.

These Hats were all made up not more than a week ago—so much for their freshness and correct style.

The lot consists of Hats for dress and street wear—made of the finest materials, no matter what is used. The Dress Hats are of fine quality silk pile velvets, and the Hats for street wear are of beautiful felts, of flats and hoods, which are bent up in the most fashionable shapes. Pretty feathers, flowers, ribbons, or ornaments adorn these Hats, and are arranged in almost as many different ways as there are Hats.

Almost every variation of shape worn this season—including many large shapes, such as Gainsboroughs, Sailors, Flare Hats, as well as many of the equally as desirable Turbans.

Owing to the fact that there are only one of a kind, it is impossible to give detailed description of the styles.

Values worth up to $8.00 and $10.00, for $3.50 tomorrow.
